????? Was Elizabeth a Chestnut ????????

Information from Ed Todd suggest Eliazbeth was a Chestnut, married a Royals, her first husband died, she then married William S. Todd.

Elizabeth has been added as a child of Daniel Chestnut. if in fact she was a Chestnut it seems logical that Daniel Chestnut was her father, and she married her cousin Daniel Royal .

It is not proven that this Elizabeth is a child of Daniel and Mary Chestnut. But she has been included in this family to keep the Chestnut line together.

Notes for THOMAS WILLIAM GRAHAM:

Thomas William Graham was born October 25, 1849, a son of William Isaiah Graham (1822-1864) and Margaret Dorcas Beaty (1825-1891). His father was sheriff of Horry County from 1851 to 1856. His mother was the daughter of the Rev. Thomas Akin Beaty and Dorcas Chestnut Johnson. On December 28, 1871, Thomas William Graham married Frances Jones Sessions, a daughter of Francis I. Sessions and Harriett Tillman Green. He operated a business on the Waccamaw River near Conwayboro which caused the area to be known as Grahamville.

Graham sold a considerable tract of land along the South Carolina coast near what is today Myrtle Beach before relocating with his family to their new Santee River home, Woodville Plantation.

Woodville was conveyed by the Master in Equity, John Adams Leland, to T. W. Graham on October 20, 1887. He later added Elmwood Plantation and other properties to his holdings. He became a successful rice planter and a manufacturer of naval stores.

T. W. Graham died at McClellanville on January 16, 1905.

Thomas W. Beaty: Editor of the Horry News and a major leader in the county. He had been a secessionist, was a early Straightouter, and supported Wade Hampton.

Mary and Thomas had five children and their home was what is now known at the Beaty- Spivey house on Kingston Lake. They lost all five children tragically. Two of the girls drowned in the lake behind their home, two girls died young of diptheria, and the youngest child and only son, Brookie, is the subject of what has become a Conway ghost story. I heard this story as a child and still hear it -- that Aunt Mary was sitting in the parlor with a sick Brookie upstairs when she heard beautiful music. Angels, who were her deceased daughters, appeared. A discordant note was struck and she asked the meaning. The girls replied that they had come for their brother. Mary went to the child's room and found that he had died. Mrs. Beaty repeated her experience often to the people of Conway and her story was accepted as true, since she was such an intelligent, well-informed and highly respected lady in the town. All five children are buried in the Kingston Presbyterian churchyard in the section known as the "Beaty Burying Ground". Over the graves of the two girls who drowned is a marble carving, encased in glass, attributed to the renowned sculptor, Hiram Powers.

Thomas Beaty fought in the Civil War and left his wife, who was an energetic woman of great ability and high intelligence, to supervise his business interests which at that time included an extensive mercantile and naval stores business and the running of a local newspaper. All of this she handled with great competence and skill.

Beaty-Little House, Horry County
507 Main St., Conway
Right Oblique Left Oblique OutbuildingPumphouse

The Beaty-Little House is significant as one of the few extant, relatively intact residences in Conway dating from the antebellum period and for its association with John R. Beaty and Henry P. Little. The house was built ca. 1855 for John Robinson Beaty by the Eaton brothers, shipbuilders from Bucksport, Maine, who had moved to Horry County to build ships at Bucksville on the Waccamaw River. It is a two-story, rectangular, central hall plan residence with a hipped roof and two interior brick chimneys. The frame house is clad in weatherboard and rests on a brick pier with brick infill foundation. A five-bay, one-story, full-width, hipped-roof porch extends across the façade. This porch features six turned, freestanding Tuscan-influenced columns. The porch deck is recessed, i.e. a "rain porch," and has an elaborately sawn balustrade. Beaty was killed in the Civil War by friendly fire in 1865, the house remained in the Beaty family until it was purchased by Henry Pyle Little in 1904. Little, a building contractor from Tennessee, came to Conway in 1899 and built several of the town's public buildings, including the Horry County Courthouse, ca. 1906, and the 1910 sanctuary of the Conway Methodist Church. He also served as Mayor of Conway for five years and was active in local politics and business for nearly forty years. Little lived in the house until his death in 1941. Listed in the National Register August 5, 1986.

Jesse and his wife Lizzie Ann Milligan Chestnut are both buried at Bethlehem Baptist Church , Shell, Horry County, South Carolina.

Jesse died from skin cancer, Lizzie died from old age.

Uncle Jimmy has Jesse birthday as January 15, 1858

Jesse was born and lived his life in Horry County, South Carolina. He had been a farmer in the Shell Community area, growing tobacco and raising hogs. Jesse had been a man of simple means, he worked hard, to provide for his family. Life was not an easy in the later 1800' s early 1900's in Horry County, South Carolina. Transportation was difficult to come by and the roads were very bad, what roads that there were. Folks in this area did not travel too often, and they received even less visitors. There were no factories to work in, money was very difficult to get. Most folks from Horry County were farmers. Jesse lived across from Uncle Ozzie and Aunt Pinkie's farm. Jesse's house apparently stood across the road from Uncle Ozzie's, the house burned sometime in the 1920's.

from George Holt

On Stacy Chestnut-Family history told to me was that he was first married to Frances T. "Phennie" Holt (my great grandfather William Franklin Holt's baby sister). They split up and Stacy married "Phennie's" niece Martha Mary Holt (one of my grandfather Fernie George Holt's sisters). "Phennie" & Martha were only three years apart in age. This situation created "bad blood" in the family so Stacy & Martha left South Carolina and moved to Georgia.

One of the three children of James Commander Chestnut that I have documented is an Isaac Bertie Chestnut, born 1/3/1889. I still have not connected Stacy to James Commander Chestnut's family.

Hi,

My grandfather, Fernie George Holt, did have a sister named Martha M. Holt, born on or about 1877. She was one of ten children born to my great grandfather & great grandmother William Franklin Holt & Frances H. Gerald. According to my records, Martha was married to a Stacy Chestnut, but I have no substantiating information on this marriage or offspring of the marriage. Do you? I would love to have any data you might have on the above.

George

from Carol Chestnut Cloran

I don't have any substantiating documentation. If this is the right couple, they moved to Colquitt, Georgia (Miller County). I have knowledge of 6 children, John Isaac(my grandfather),Henry Arthur, Ed, George, Jesse & Estelle. My grandfather was the oldest and was born 7-4-1902 but the family is unsure if he was born in Georgia or South Carolina. Stacy Chestnut was suppose to have a brother I.B. Chestnut. Apparently went by Bert. He was a teacher in Conway.

Following is an article in the Loris Centennial 1887 - 1987 Souvenir Book.

Warm hearted, good natured, hardworking, fishing enthusiast -- those who know him are quick to apply these to "Mr. Coe". Albert Bisco Allsbrook, Sr., was born January 24, 1907, the fifth of nine children.

His father, Newsome Biscoe Allsbrook (1869-1939), a native of Martin County in eastern North Carolina, came before the turn of the century to Horry County, settling at first in the Red Bluff area. He was soon married to Cora Jane Cox (1874-1962), daughter of William and Charity Hughes Cox of the Simpson Creek section. A farmer and country businessman, Newsome Biscoe Allsbrook and Cora settled at Sanford, later renamed Allsbrook. His brother Joseph Ross Allsbrook settled in the same area across the road and built the house which has recently been restored and is now known as the Allsbrook-Rankin house. Other children of the family were Newsome Daniel Allsbrook (deceased), Bertha Howell Allsbrook Sasser, Nina Mae Allsbrook Smith, William Claud Allsbrook (deceased), Willie Henrietta Allsbrook Hinson, Joseph Russell Allsbrook, Inez Virginia Allsbrook Danaher and Willard Ragsdale Allsbrook (deceased).

Coe Allsbrook was born at Sanford (the name was not changed until 1910). "I went to school at Allsbrook, Green Sea, and Loris. Before I married, I operated a farm, had a country store and was postmaster at Allsbrook. The post office was in a room of the store. That's where most of the post offices were in the rural areas at that time."

On October 1, 1931, he married a neighboring farm girl, Inez Anderson, the daughter of Levi W. Anderson (1882-1967) and Ella R. Hardee Anderson (1885-1965), well-known farmers of the Gurley community. They had three children, Albert Biscoe Allsbrook, Jr. in 1933, Wilma Celeste Allsbrook Yon (1936-1960), and Ella Ann Allsbrook Boyd in 1943.

Coe Allsbrook was never too busy with his farm and fertilizer sales to overlook other ingredients that contribute to a happy life. The Loris Presbyterian Church presented him with a plaque of appreciation for services given to the church as a deacon and church treasurer, twenty years of continuous service. He served as a trustee for Loris High School for many years. Now retired, he is not quite so active, but is up and going with his wife Inez, enjoying their children and grandchildren and great grandchildren, and he still takes an occasional day for fishing.

Newsome B. Allsbrook, is buried in the Patterson Cemetery, in Horry County, South Carolina. Joseph Lloyd Allsbrook moved to Horry County South Carolina area when he was 19 years old. Areas he lived in was Fair Bluff, NC, Green Sea, SC, Red Bluff, SC, then to Sanford, SC (later called Allsbrook). Newsom Biscoe came to live with his brother when he was 16 years old. He married Mary E. Royals, daughter of William R. Royals and Nancy L. Todd Royals. As a wedding present, Mary's father gave them a track of land at Sanford. Mary died a few years after their marriage, at age 20, they had no children. Newsom Biscoe then married Cora Arrajane Cox, daughter of William McKinley Cox and Charith A. Hughes Cox. Newsom Biscoe was call Uncle Coe by his nieces and nephews, his nickname was Coad, pronounced "code". It is said that the family did not like his nickname. Joseph and Newsom farmed and ran a general store at Allsbrook. Children of Newsom were born in Allsbrook

Birth: May 1, 1848
Death: Jul. 17, 1925

Horry Herald
August 13, 1925

At sunrise on the morning of July 17 the grim form of death found its way into the home of Rev. an Mrs. R. B. Chestnut and claimed for its own, Lois A. Edge, 77. She leaves behind her only daughter and a host of friends and relatives.

Mrs. Edge was the wife of Doc Edge who fount in the War Between the States n defense of the South.

Sleep on loved one, peacefully sleep,
Until the Judgement Day.
And then arise and sing the praise,
And to heave sore away.
Oh, let us all prepare to go to that Bright and Happy Land. For we shall meet our loved one there and walk the glittering strand. Oh, let us all get ready to meet our God above, a land of joy and love.

Her grandson,

In Loving Remembrance

On June 9th, 1919, death claimed for its own William Asa Gause. He was eighty two years old. He leaves a wife, two brothers and a host of sorrowing relatives and friends to mourn their loss, but while we mourn we feel sure it is his eternal gain. Oh, it was so hard to part from him. But the Lord knew he had suffered in the cold world long enough and took him to the fair fields of Eden, where parting will be no more. We are confident that he is reaping his good reward for just before the end came he said he was ready and willing to meet his savior, and may each and every one of us live such a live as Uncle Asa so when the end comes we can lean our heads on Jesus' breast and breathe our lives our sweetly there. He joined the Baptist Church early in life and lived a faithful member until his death.

We will meet our friends and loved ones
At our Father's snow white throne,
Where sickness, pain and sorrow
And sad partings never come.

We will meet our blessed Savior
In that land of endless light,
We will sing and shout forever
In those mansions fair and bright.

Resting in the arms of Jesus
When our labors all are o're;
Resting in the arms of Jesus,
Safe with him forever more.

Yes, dead Uncle we will meet you,
And sing together there on high;
But the happiest of his meeting,
Is, we will never say goodbye.

His loving nieces
Minnie L. and Nolia Royals

Death of Capers Anderson

On Saturday afternoon May 30th, at about 4 o'clock death came to uncle Capers Anders at the home of his son on R.F.D. No.1, Loris, S. C. He was in his 71st years. When quite a young man he joined the Missionary Baptist Church at Springfield and he lived a consistent Christian life til his death.

He was loved throughout the community by all who knew him, and he was known as a hard worker to both old and young, who often made this remark concerning him. Uncle Capers was born on Kingston Lake six miles above Conway where lived for many years then moved to Sanford, S. C.

Everything possible was done to stay the had of death, but without success. He is survived by a widow and five children, four boys and one girl. John L. Anderson of Daisy, Geo. Anderson of Loris, James Anderson, Needham Anderson, and Mrs. Mary Frances Sarvis, all of Sanford, S.C.

His remains were laid to rest at Cane Branch cemetery on the following day. The funeral sermon will be preached at Cane Branch on the first Sunday in July, and will be delivered by Rev. P. Coats.
